Report Stories Of Assault, Death

Belgian government sources in Brussels reported two companies of infantry being airlifted to Leopoldville to reinforce the 1,500 Belgian paratroopers already there to protect white citizens. But the paratroopers remained in their barracks throughout the tumultuous day.

MESSAGED LUMUMBA

A Belgian government source said Premier Gaston Eyskens in Brussels messaged Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba that Belgian forces would attack if order was not restored.

As night fell in Leopoldville, loyal elements of the 20,000-man "force publique" (Congolese army) began to enforce a curfew that cleared the streets.

Until the curfew, Africans had blocked off main streets leading to the airport, it was reported.

Reports of sporadic outbursts of shooting in Leopoldville could not be confirmed. Early Friday this correspondent heard only once — and then from a distance — what might have been a rifle shot. The sound of it sent a wave of panic among Europeans.

An estimated 3,000 white men, women and children, some of them shrieking and crying in fear, fled to the riverside and were shuttled to Brazzaville, capital of the separate Congo republic in the French community, by a creaky old river steamer.

many Latin leaders, has taken cognizance of a need to help out the southern neighbors.

Hagerly said the new U.S. plan for cooperative economic work with the Latin American nations was "entirely separate from the Cuban situation." He said the President and Hagerly would discuss that crisis as a distinct and separate matter.

Hagerly acknowledged, however, that any decisions on hemispheric aid naturally would have to take account of the situation in Cuba.

Tuesday, Hagerly and Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. will fly to Quebec for military talks with Canadian officials. Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson also will participate in the two-day Canadian conference.

Hagerly went to his summer home in Manchester, Mass., Saturday, and had planned to remain there through Sunday. But he cut two days off the vacation because of new crises between the United States and Fidel Castro's Cuban government.

In another economic reprisal against the Castro regime, the Agriculture Department Friday denied Cuba its usual one-third share of an increase in U.S. sugar requirements.

The requirement was raised by 200,000 tons, 140,000 of which was allocated to all suppliers having flexible quotas. The allocation included 44,765 tons for domestic beet-sugar producers and 13,774 for producers of cane sugar.

Hagerly's return to Washington came after Cuba stepped up its seizure of American property on the island, and Eisenhower retaliated by eliminating most of Cuba's share of U.S. sugar requirements for the rest of this year.

Posts up for vote include city marshals, West Monroe judge, parish school board members and other parish and city posts.

Voting will be conducted in the basement office of the Ouachita Parish Courthouse, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. July 13 to 20, not including Saturday afternoon or Sunday.

The parish has 24,731 registered voters.

Any registered voter who will be out of town on the election day may cast an absentee ballot during the 10-days allotted.

Miss Northeast Performs State Contest Last For Miss Northeast

ver, joined the faculty of the Monroe college.

As an 18-year old girl trumpet player, while at Houston, she won the Ted Mack Amateur Hour Auditions and went on to New York to win the national top prize on the Mack show for three times. Her reward was a contract for a seven week's engagement as a featured performer at New York's famed Radio City Music Hall.

She also has appeared on Lawrence Welk's TV program, "Top Tunes and New Talent."

To further portray her musical ability, let it be known that she could be playing with Fred Warling right now if she so wished. When the maestro of the Pennsylvanians appeared in Monroe this Spring he offered Miss Mooney a contract as a featured performer. She declined, explaining that she wanted to obtain her degree from Northeast before she becomes a professional musician. She is an "A" student, incidentally.

So Miss Louisiana No. 2 Kirby Jane Mooney is a musician of unquestioned talent and educated ability but she says she does not claim to be a "beauty."

Those who saw her in the pageants, or who look at her photographs, may claim otherwise.

Her friends say, "She looks like the all-American Girl Next Door, with the poise, but not the veneer, of a professional performer."

Monroe, and other places in Louisiana, will enjoy her appearance and her talent during the next two years for she will continue as a featured performer with the Northeast Jazz Ensemble.

Miss Northeast, Kirby Jane Mooney, who says she is proud of that title "because so many people of Northeast Louisiana College actually believed that I would win the state pageant and did everything they could to help me."

less of heat at the local airport where she is employed in the capacity of nurse to crippled children. Now these days 25 are brought to the Selman field for a day of studies that will enable them to read like other youngsters. In the fall, as many as 35 come by trucks or buses daily to receive instruction. It is a wonderful project and great credit is due Mrs. West and to her unusual husband.

By the way, not all know how "Dr." got his title. It was when he was the parish health unit and a physician's meeting was called some distance from Monroe. Of course West asked permission to attend. When he got there he was amazed to find that none but physicians were present. His fellow members quickly sensed the case and declared that he become like the rest "Doctor" to one and all. When "Doc" got home he related what had occurred and from that day to this he is "Dr." West to one and all. "Doc" is a genius whether in gardening or anything else that turns up. He never forgets that he has been made a "Doctor."

Medical certificates also are needed, before the license may be issued.

Ouachita Parish Clerk of Court B. S. McRaney had a word of caution for prospective brides and grooms Friday: bring your birth certificates when you apply for a marriage license.

program, which Davis will use to provide capital outlay at Louisiana State University, state colleges and state institutions.

In the Senate, one million dollars was added to the general appropriations bill.

The one million included $600,000 to help pay for all the salary raises for state officials — lawmakers, sheriffs, assessors, Supreme Court justices, judges, clerks of courts and registrars.

Another $280,000 was added in the Senate to provide for full 12-month salaries for vocational agricultural teachers.

Davis defended his $63-million state budget in a news conference a day earlier.

He said it represented a three per cent increase compared with last fiscal year, perhaps the smallest for Louisiana in many an administration.

Since the state government is growing and there are a lot of benefits to dish out, he said, the administration has made a good showing.

Davis said it is significant the final budget is only six million over the original $57-million recommended in the first place. The increase over last year is only 18 million and 14 million of that is earmarked for education.

Some of the major money items in the final general appropriations bill:

Agriculture Department $415,139.

Agriculture division of entomology $610,148.

Division of weights and measures $258,000.

Eradication of fire ant $258,000.

Attorney General's office $493,500.

Commerce and Industry Department $500,000, plus $104,337 for tourist bureau.

The per educable fund distributed to parishes according to the number of school age children $51,383,365.

Equalization fund $17,127,788.

School lunch fund $11,356,717.

Says Truman Will Attend Demo Meet

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Former president Harry S. Truman has reconsidered and will arrive for the Democratic National Convention sometime Monday, Missouri Gov. James T. Blair announced Friday.

Truman will attend "as a delegate," Blair told a news conference in a prepared statement which also forecast the nomination of Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) for president.

Truman had announced last week he was resigning as a delegate and would not attend the convention because, as he put it, it was "prearranged" for one candidate — Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Blair said Kennedy's support is "skin-thin" and that defections from his early strength will show up on the second ballot.

"We Missourians have surveyed the situation, and we believe we can nominate Stuart Symington," Blair declared. "There is a big 'silent vote' at this convention. Hundreds of delegates are uncommitted."

"These quiet ones are looking for a nominee who will be good for their state and local tickets this fall. This is a Democratic year if we don't blow it."

Possibility Of Changes In City Plan

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard said Friday that he doesn't expect any radical changes to result from official studying of the Master Plan, but pointed out that some minor changes may be made in the Planning Commission's design for the city.

"We're studying the overall plan," said Howard of one-hour-long sessions being attended each afternoon by city officials and employees.

"We expect to be finished some time next week," he added. He doubts that the zoning ordinances will be adopted Tuesday.

Monday at 10 a.m., the City Council will hold the final open hearing on zoning ordinances and the master plan, in the mayor's office.

"We may receive a lot of recommendations for changes. If we do, it will take more time than one day to study them," he continued, adding "at this time it's impossible to tell if we will take any action on zoning at the Council meeting."

As to any changes decided on for the Master Plan by the City Council, Howard said they would be announced to the public before the Council adopts the Plan.

"We want to give the public every opportunity to voice their feelings on the plan and zoning at the public hearing Monday. Each citizen should familiarize himself with the plan now on display in the Planning Commission office," he noted.

At next Tuesday's 10 a.m. Council meeting, officials will open bids on 12 trucks for the sanitary and street departments.

Bids for the proposed central garage also will be opened. The garage will serve the sanitary, sewerage, parks, electrical, police and water departments.

The "anti-rooster" ordinance also probably will come up for discussion.

Howard admitted that it will be necessary to ban roosters from the city, to eliminate the disturbance caused to some people by rooster crowing.

"This ordinance won't effect people who raise chickens for eggs. It just will ban roosters," he said.

Senator Church Works On Speech

By WARREN DUFFEE
UNITED Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church worked Friday on a Democratic keynote speech he hopes will bring thousands of convention delegates out of their chairs but keep millions of television viewers on their sofas.

The two types of audiences, as the 35-year-old Idaho senator sees it, will respond favorably to the keynote speech only if it is carefully fully drafted with both in mind. Church, the "baby" of the Senate, feels that his main job is to hold the interest of the mammoth TV audience and keep it from dialing him out. But he also sees the necessity of striking sparks in the Convention Hall — to get the big meeting started on an enthusiastic note.

Church isn't tipping his hand on the delivery or content of his speech. But from his past speeches, the "chatly" approach adopted by some politicians in the TV-age can be ruled out.

Although he is youthful appearing to the point of once being mistaken for a Senate page, Church's oratory sometimes approaches the style of old-time evangelistic preaching.

In an interview before leaving for Los Angeles, Church said that unlike many orators he does his speech composing on a typewriter — much in the manner of a newspaper or magazine writer.

He has been working on the speech at his Capitol Hill office — a little time here, a little there, whenever he could find free moments in the hectic closing weeks of the pre-convention Senate session, Church said.

Earnest and forthright in his

Heiress And Soldier Elope In Germany

BITBURG, Germany (UPI) — Heiress Nanette Wallace and the soldier she defied parental authority to elope with were married across the German border in Luxembourg early Friday.

A friend of the couple, Sgt. delivery, Church puts great emphasis on enunciation and modulation.

He's usually effective in the Senate. The nation can judge for itself next week how he does in a larger area.

Warren Sullivan, of (Rural Route 3) Chattanooga, Tenn., said Nanette and SP 4-CL Wiley Lockamy of (RFD One) Clinton, N.C., were married in a civil ceremony at nearby Luxembourg.

Final permission for the couple to marry was given Thursday after the necessary paperwork had been completed, Sullivan said.

Mrs. Patricia Wallace Vanderbilt, Nanette's mother and ex-wife of Millionaire Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., was present at the wedding. Sullivan gave the bride away and a friend of Lockamy's was best man.

Until further notice, Sullivan said the couple will stay in Bitburg, where Lockamy is stationed as a technician with a guided missile unit.

Brown Arrives For Convention 'Tight-Lipped'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown arrived here Friday tight-lipped on what he will do with his 31 favorite-son votes at the Democratic National Convention.

Stepping off his National Guard plane, the governor said he would make his statement at a delegation caucus at 2 p.m. Sunday in its Hollywood hotel headquarters.

He said, however, that he expected that "a majority of the delegates will follow me" in his preference — "tying the knot."

ence. This would assure Sen. John F. Kennedy upwards of 40 votes if, as indicated, the governor throws his support to the Massachusetts senator.

Brown declined comment on whom he will support and just when he will release the 162 half-vote delegates pledged to him.

He said he wanted to confer first with Sen. Clair Engle, chairman of the California delegation, who met him on his arrival.

TYING THE KNOT
NEW YORK (UPI) — In India years ago, the bride's right wrist was tied to the bridegroom's left wrist during the marriage ceremony. This was the origin of the saying — "tying the knot."

Johnson And A.D.A.

One thing that can be said in favor of Senate Leader Lyndon B. Johnson in his race for the Democratic presidential nomination is that he is opposed by the leftist Americans for Democratic Action (A.D.A.). Senator Johnson took a rap at the A.D.A. and questioned its accuracy and veracity.

In answer to a question regarding A.D.A.'s charges that "you are a conservative" and "you voted against every meaningful provision offered by liberals to the civil rights bill," Senator Johnson said:

"Well, I would say that I heartily disagree with them. I would further say that the A.D.A. is not noted, I think, for the accuracy of its predictions or the good judgment of its expressions. I would expect them to be against me. As a matter of fact, I would not feel very comfortable if I had their support. I shall never be a captive of any group and I don't think I have a 100 per cent record on anything except for my country. I would like to point this out: that we have made two far-reaching advances in legislation in the civil rights field in the last three years, and that has been more than has been done in the other 80 years. I believe very strongly in the protection of every person's constitutional rights, wherever he lives, whatever his religion, whatever his race."

Of the four candidates most frequently mentioned for the Democratic nomination—Senator Johnson, Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts, Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri and former Illinois Governor Adlai Stevenson—Johnson is looked upon least favorably by the A.D.A. Apparently none of the other candidates feels uncomfortable at the idea of support by the extremely leftist, socialistic A.D.A.

Another question put to Senator Johnson was: "You have been called a conservative. Would you describe yourself as you see it?"

The senator's answer was: "I don't go in much for labels. I've been called nearly everything. I sit in the senate with men who have been sent there by their sovereign states. Harry Byrd sits on one side of me and Wayne Morse on the other. We don't all see everything alike. Sometimes I find myself a man in the middle. But somebody has to be in the middle if we are to get things done. I believe I am progressive and prudent without being radical. I think I am conservative without being reactionary."

Thus, Johnson sums up his own position about as well as anyone could do. He appears to be the most conservative of the four leading contenders for the reason that he apparently thinks the other candidates are too far to the left. A.D.A. opposition is one of the strongest factors in his favor.

According to one annotator, Johnson has been sticking like a leech to his senate duties while Kennedy has been neglecting his badly. This man said:

"Voting records for the past five critical months in government affairs are worthy of study. Senator Jack Kennedy, who claims and is given credit for nearly all desirable legislation, was present and voting in the senate roll calls 12 per cent of the time. In comparison, Senator Johnson was present and voted in 97 per cent of the roll calls."

"If Kennedy and Johnson are of equal ability, this voting record is an indication of the attention each would devote to his task if elevated to the presidency."

Another commentator said in part: "Obviously, the Democrats cannot afford the luxury of simply nominating the popular, personable Kennedy. They must name a candidate who can win the election and then display the leadership and experienced wisdom to guide our nation out of its darkest hours."

"The convention should nominate Kennedy for the vice-presidency, in which position he can age and season, while they select the able statesman, Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson, to lead the way to the white house."

On the other hand, there are many who think Kennedy will never attain the maturity needed for the presidency and that, therefore, he should not be nominated for the vice-presidency.

'Asthma Dog' Debate

The tiny Chihuahua is commonly termed the "asthma dog," and there are a lot of people who are willing to swear the name is justified. Many doctors disagree but they cite a possible reason for some cures—namely, less worrying.

Mark Twain was quoted as saying that every dog should have a few fleas because they would keep his mind off his other worries. It could be that way with a Chihuahua dog and asthma.

Along with some adult sufferers, parents of children with this type of allergy sometimes are firmly convinced the little dog has a lot of effect in relieving asthma attacks. One father said his 7-year-old daughter's asthma attacks diminished as soon as he got a Chihuahua for her and that they soon ceased entirely.

Several doctors said it was amazing the way many people with Chihuahuas had to keep on consulting allergists.

There are some advantages and some disadvantages about naming the Chihuahua as the "asthma dog." It is a little dog and won't eat much. Think of the expense if the St. Bernard or Russian wolfhound were "asthma dogs." On the other hand, as one specialist pointed out, "It's a shame someone didn't think of dubbing a rubber doll an 'asthma doll.'"

The St. Bernard might cure a lot more asthma than the Chihuahua, as it is bigger, but the rubber doll would eat less than either of them and might be just as comforting. The specialist pointed out that a feeling of well-being and confidence was the only way in which the Chihuahua could help cure asthma, as the ailment is now generally credited with being largely psychosomatic. Any dog could do just as well, even a mongrel, and that is something that can be said in behalf of the dog.

Referring to the rubber doll, the specialist said, "while it couldn't replace medical care, it might have given a feeling of confidence and the small patient would not have to come in contact with dog hair and dandruff, which may cause more trouble."

Dogs or dolls, it seems okay if it works. It's mostly in the way you look at it.

Having Trouble Understanding Each Other

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Two Convention Blitzes

Rockefeller Drive In Republican Party Fails; Kennedy Trying For Win On First Or Second Ballot

Two blitzes are being attempted in the 1960 presidential campaign. There is the Rockefeller blitz in the Republican party which seems to have burned itself out. Nelson Rockefeller, whatever his virtues, hired a large staff and set it up in a building in New York, to study the situation, direct and analyze polls, prepare studies and write speeches. What has come out of this factory is a melange of high school debating stuff which made a very bad impression upon mature minds. Rockefeller felt that he had to have a daily front page story in "The New York Times" and most of the time got it to his disadvantage.

But what damaged Rockefeller more than the product of his speech factory is his lack of loyalty which is of the essence of any form of organized life. His attacks have not been limited to his chosen adversary, Richard Nixon, but were so prepared that they focussed criticism on the Republican party and on President Eisenhower. The Republican party does not need to take that from anyone but it takes it from Rockefeller only because he will have something to say about the New York delegation. And he is a very rich man who can make or withhold large contributions.

His blitz failed because neither he nor his speech factory represents political experience. No man can be a partisan and an enemy simultaneously. There is an ugly word for that and politicians use it freely. From the politician's standpoint, this is what Nelson Rockefeller tried to do:

1. He tried to split the Republican party which has not yet fully recovered from the Taft-Dewey fracas and the Eisenhower-McCarthy entanglements; 2. He attempted to set himself up as a leader competing with a president-in-office. This no one has ever succeeded to do in the United States.

It is a pity that Nelson Rockefeller is so ill-advised in political fundamentals. What he has exposed is a stubborn, inflexible personality, incapable of adjusting to a representative society in which one opinion cannot prevail.

Rockefeller accepts his own judgments as sound because they are a product of scientific research. Curiously, that is the basis for Khrushchev's opinions. But is Khrushchev sound?

The Democrats have blitz trouble, too. Senator John F. Kennedy would prefer to be nominated on the first or second ballot. The first looks impossible because the favorite sons want a chance. The second ballot is really the first serious ballot in the Democratic convention. If John Kennedy can get that he will be nominated without a doubt. He is therefore working a blitz toward that end.

The southerners and some of the westerners prefer Lyndon Johnson to John Kennedy. There are no particular issues in this preference. It is personality and environment. They therefore are acting as stumbling blocks in the way of the Kennedy blitz.

Kennedy's problems are his youth and his religion, neither of which he can change or rearrange. Whereas he won his primaries despite both, many Democrats still are afraid to risk testing them in a general election. It is therefore important to the Kennedy candidacy that he seize his victory early—as early as possible. If Kennedy can make it on the first or second ballot, his energetic blitz will have succeeded; if he has to wait for a later ballot, there may be a wild scramble in the convention. The south wants Lyndon Johnson; Mrs. Roosevelt wants Adlai Stevenson; Stuart Symington does not seem off the ground.

Blitzes are not good devices in our nominating process. It is not sound to grab a nomination. However, the conventions have ceased to be deliberative. There is no discussion as to candidates or principles. There is considerable speech-making and it is nearly all of a low, pedestrian order. The noise is almost unbearable. No deliberation could take place in so much noise. The smoke-filled room therefore has become an essential. There are dozens of smoke-filled rooms in each of which there are discussions and thoughtful approaches to problems. Only those who are admitted into these rooms really take part in the conventions. The others go for the ride, wherever it takes them. Surely there must be some better and more efficient way to nominate a president of the United States.

PLANES WATCH BOATERS

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Conservation Department is using a loudspeaker from a plane to encourage compliance with the state's new boating laws. Department-owned planes fly over power boats and occupants are asked to show required life preservers.

"If they have them, they hold them up," an official said. "If they don't, they head for shore to get them."

War Limitation

Intelligent Restriction In Interest

Of Foes Proposed

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Alfred Nobel, dynamite inventor, and Andrew Carnegie, steelmonster, both had attacks of conscience and founded woolly-minded institutions for world peace. Now comes another weapons-maker, the Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp., manufacturer of Atlas, our only operational intercontinental missile, with a much more cogent scheme. The objective is not elusive and illusory peace, but a limitation of war.

I am in possession of a galley proof study entitled, "A Doctrine For Limited War," which I have permission to discuss although it is still technically under "security review" at the Pentagon. The work is the product of a two-year, Convair-sponsored project by a blue-ribbon panel of scholar-scientists. They are Doctors Henry Kissinger of Harvard, Oskar Morgenstern of Princeton, Chalmers Sherwin of Illinois University, John Wheeler of Princeton and John Clark of Convair.

The work could be called (probably not by the authors) an informed proposal to return to the good old days before American statesmen thought it intelligent and "internationalistic" to turn small wars into big ones, and local frays into universal conflagrations.

While warfare can't be abolished, men and nations being what they are, it can be intelligently restricted within the self-interest of the opponents. A war remains limited, the authors say, "as long as neither major participant feels that its survival is threatened." Keenly selected examples from history are given, the most recent being the 1953 "flap" when the Red Chinese tried to take Quemoy - Matsu by bombardment, and the Nationalist Chinese (with our help) prevented it. Limitation of war refers only to its goals, not to its savagery or intensity. The most intense artillery bombardment in history was not in either World War, but at Pork Chop Hill in the recent Korean conflict.

We cannot always force an enemy to limit his objectives, but we can make it advantageous for him to do so. Neither an aggressor nor a defender would go to strategy, megaton nuclear bombs if the move would cost him the purpose of his fight. By building up a nuclear arsenal and the vehicles to deliver the punch, we are issuing the world - be aggressor what amounts to a command invitation to come on and fight, since fight he must for the goal he seeks, but for nothing beyond that goal.

It is very likely, by the nature of the Communist revolution and the Western alliances, that limited wars will be fought in the 1960's. In order to keep them limited, and to win them with allied troops or our own, we must have what the authors of this work aptly call a "spectrum of capabilities." It exists in three general phases:

Nuclear: If we could recover the optimum position of American supremacy in world - shattering weapons, we would have the Big Stick. We could threaten a "pre-emptive" strike at an enemy who was cocking his fist at one of our allies. Of course, we would have to be convincing about these threats. We might have to be (or seem to be) as ruthless and decisive as the Reds have pictured us. Well, why not? We didn't drop any germs on North Korea, but the Communists said we did, and millions of people have evidently believed it. So, if we ever again reach the fortunate position of nuclear supremacy, where we could conceivably bomb and not be bombed back, let's not give away the advantage by acting so holy.

Conventional: While World War III need not be fought with all-out weapons, it certainly cannot be successfully fought with those weapons of World War II and of the Korean conflict. Vehicles have become speedy and light, personal arms more accurate and deadly, reconnaissance has become ultrasonic, and many tactical weapons have become atomic. Armed with the best of modern conventional weapons, we can win any limited war, anywhere. Without the best, we can be beaten.

Bio-chemical: The authors hold that lethal germs and gases have no advantage over nuclear explosives - but future wars held with non-lethal weapons holds large, unexplored possibilities.

Although rarely presented as a fact of future war, the humble Hemic Gutter may become one of the most effective forces. We may have to deal with civil disturbances, with fifth columns and with massive disasters. Even amid many scientific wonders, the keepers of American freedom will be men and women, quite possibly men and women of our own neighborhoods.

Anybody, or any group like these thinkers in the Convair project, who can turn big wars back into little wars will deserve the gratitude of mankind.

SYLVIA PORTER

Lunches Longer

Businessman May Spend Two Or Three Hours At Noon Meal

We're having a tempest in a martini glass in New York about the alleged increasing length and wetness of the businessman's lunch. "Today the average executive's afternoon meal lasts at least two hours, often stretches to three hours," front-paged the New York Herald Tribune recently, adding, "Not only has business lunching gotten more lengthy it has also gotten wetter (mainly with martinis)."

"This may be known, some day, as the Era of the Long Lunch," editorialized the New York Times a few days later, and ever eager to dig deep down, the New York Times man speculated whether future historians, seeking reasons for our failure to maintain our lead in the 1950s and 1960s, might not "lay part of the blame . . . at the foot of the luncheon table." Fiddlesticks!

At the risk of tweaking newspapers with power to squash this lone female into the cracked ice at the bottom of a Scotch Mist glass, I suggest the research of the Herald Tribune and Times leaves much to be desired.

For serious studies made over the years by responsible sources of this feature of executive life in America brand as nonsense the popular notion of the business lunch as a long, leisurely, free feast. Instead of querying a few Manhattan restaurant men, these surveys have covered favorite luncheon spots across the country - in Chicago, New Orleans, Seattle, San Francisco, Louisiana, Pittsburgh as well as New York - have checked hundreds of executives, investigated the how, with whom and where of the executive lunch.

With a dry throat, I can report on the basis of these studies that the average time spent at lunch by the U. S. executive is one hour and a half - portal to portal.

Even occasion luncheons rarely run beyond two hours. When they do, in almost every instance the executives are working as hard as at the office.

Heavy drinking at the executive lunch is strictly OUT. One drink, quite possibly. A second may be ordered but hardly touched. The percentage having more than two is picaresque.

Most top executives who have a drink at lunch DON'T WANT IT. An overwhelming number who do have a drink take one only because a customer or a client at the luncheon is drinking.

A host at a businessman's lunch offers a drink as a courtesy. If his guest turns it down, a patter going something like this almost always follows: "I'd like one, but it makes me sleepy in the middle of the day. You go ahead, though . . ." Or, "Funny thing, after hours I enjoy a drink as much as any one, but during the day . . ." Frequently, the host then says, "Me too," both are relieved and the conversation gets down to business. I know. I've heard the patter and used it myself hundreds, maybe thousands of times.

Lunching in the executive dining room in the plant or office building is on the rise, and these luncheons are not only limited in time but also usually dry. A delightful story about a giant New York hunk is that only once in its history has it served a drink in its executive dining room. That was when the late Pope visited the U. S. as Cardinal Pacelli. The bank decided, on that single occasion, wine should be served.

In Wall Street lunch generally is early and short.

A dreadful custom that seems to be spreading is the breakfast conference - starting at 8 a.m., ending by 9:30. Says one reluctant participant "Imagine a man taking a drink at that hour! He'd be tagged as an alcoholic before the day was over."

Now having submitted a report on the basis of the surveys of others, I add a personal note - and I've been working my way through the business lunch for enough years to qualify as an expert. If any of us ate and drank the way the Herald Tribune and Times suggest we do, we long since would have slid out of the business world - and probably the world itself.

Castro Predicts Cuban Victory

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro declared Friday night Cuba will emerge victorious in a struggle for economic survival with the United States because "justice and history" are on Cuba's side.

Beginning a regular Friday night TV appearance an hour late, the Prime Minister said the Cuban government will not react to U.S. "aggressions" in the manner he expected. But he did not immediately say what Cuba's reaction would be to a slash in Cuban sugar sales by the United States.

"They, as we have observed, wait until the revolutionary government makes a move, then they act," Castro said. "And usually they make a mistake. Error has accompanied U. S. foreign policy in recent years."

Castro spoke shortly after a big crowd gathered at the Mexican Embassy here shouting thanks for an expression of support for the Cuban people voiced by a Mexican congressional spokesman.

Castro said provocations by the United States have done nothing but strengthen his revolution.

"For instance," he said, "now we have a hundred thousand militiamen and hundreds of thousands of rifles. I won't say how many arms we've got now for obvious reasons, but let the militiamen not get impatient with the ancient weapons they are now using. Soon they'll be armed with automatic weapons."

Police Report

Bicycle Thefts, Other Charges

Monroe police Friday were investigating the theft of a red and white bicycle from the Negro swimming pool on Renwick Street.

The 26-inch boys cycle, owned by Elizabeth Griffin, Negro, 1312 Washington St., was taken Thursday morning, according to police.

David Deland, 807 N. McGuire St., reported that a pocket-size radio was stolen from his car which was parked at the parking lot at 200 North Second Street. Deland described the radio as white and gold, with a black case. He said that his name was stamped on the case.

Police also arrested three persons on charges of disturbing the peace. They are Clarence Stewart, 47, Negro, 120 Depot St., Mildred Pace Nixon, 40, West Monroe, and Edward C. Young, 33, 2911 N. Eighth St., West Monroe. Young was also charged with resisting an officer and his bond is set at $260.

Arrested on a warrant charging improper muffler was Negro Charles D. Hill, 33, 903 Hood Alley.

TWO MINOR INJURIES

Man, 95, In Wreck; Worries About Fish

A 95-year-old Monroe Negro was justifiably upset yesterday when he was involved in a two-car collision resulting in two persons receiving minor injuries on U. S. Highway 80 at the Richland-Quachita Parish line at 4:45 p.m.

But the thing that Will Gray, 2107 Flynn St., was most upset about was that when he got home to Monroe, he discovered that he had left his fish in the wrecked car which was taken to Rayville.

Said Gray, "Lord, I forgot my fish."

Gray, and his two passengers, Joe Roling, 210 North 18th St., and Rebecca Horace, Highway 80, had been fishing since 7:30 a.m. and were enroute home when the accident occurred.

Receiving minor injuries were John D. Sims, 25, 1607 South Ninth St., and Henry Riser, 41, South Seventh Street. Sims received cuts about the mouth and Riser's right leg, arm and forehead were cut. They were taken by ambulance to a local hospital for treatment.

Gray and his two passengers were not injured in the accident which caved the top of Gray's 1954 Dodge car completely in.

Gray, charged with failure to yield the right of way, reportedly pulled out onto the highway going west from off of Sportsman's Road, at the foot of the LaFourche River Bridge. He said he did not see anything coming, and consequently was hit by the west-bound car being driven by Sims.

Sims, who was estimated by state police as going approximately 60-miles-per-hour hit the left back side of Gray's automobile. Gray's vehicle turned completely over, "spilling the fish," as Gray said.

The catch for the day was Gray, three small ones; Roling, four medium-sized fish; and Rebecca Horace caught about a dozen good-sized fish.

STATE DEPARTMENT

Sees September Berlin Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev branded the danger of a September Berlin crisis at the Western powers Friday. The United States immediately accused him of substituting threat for negotiation in his efforts to influence free world policies.

The warning was given as Khrushchev ended a nine-day state visit to Austria. It was directed toward forcing the West German government to abandon whatever plans it has for a meeting of the federal Parliament in West Berlin in September.

U.S. officials indicated they would oppose giving in to Khrushchev on this issue. But with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter both out of town, and no great urgency in the problem at the moment, there was no immediate official reaction on the central point—should the Parliament meet in Berlin or not.

What informants said privately was that for years the Parliament has held an annual meeting in West Berlin, in the center of Communist East Germany. Failure to hold such a meeting this year, particularly under Soviet threat, would be a significant political development. It could be taken to mean a weakening of the Western resolve to oppose Communist pressures to break the Allied position in West Berlin.

State Department press officer Lincoln White gave the official reaction to Khrushchev's Vienna statement when he was asked for the U.S. view at a news conference.

"Mr. Khrushchev has made a number of threatening remarks recently, designed apparently to influence internal affairs in the free world countries," White said. "His most recent threat to conclude a separate peace treaty with the East German regime if there should be a meeting of the West German Parliament in Berlin is but another example of the effort."

"We regret Mr. Khrushchev's apparent preference to conduct foreign relations by threat rather than by negotiation."

Auto Hits Post Here; Police Seeking Owner

A car, owner unknown, was found rammed into a light post at the corner of North Seventh and Ridge Avenue in West Monroe Thursday night. West Monroe police are storing the car at Powell's Garage, pending location of the owner.

Papers found in the car's seat belonged to Floyd Kelley Jr., 110 Wood St., West Monroe. However a check in fifth congressional district automobile license records showed that the car was registered to C. R. Hall, of Ansley.

According to witnesses, two women had gotten out of the wrecked car before police arrived. The pair were said to have driven away in another vehicle.

Ruston Man Is Fined On Check Counts

A Ruston Negro was fined a total of $300 or 90 days in jail in Monroe City Court yesterday on three different counts of theft by check.

Carl Smith, 26, Ruston, was fined $100 each on the three counts, and the fines are not concurrent.

A total of 40 cases were tried in city court yesterday with Judge W. M. Harper, presiding.

Carroll Smith, 25, 1106 Arkansas Road, West Monroe, was fined $300 or seven months on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. A reckless driving charge lodged against him was nolle prossed.

Jerry Allen received a $25 suspended fine each on two counts. He was charged with disturbing the peace and resisting arrest.

A charge of trespassing against Eugene Porter was nolle prossed, but he was fined $25 or 25 days on a disturbing the peace charge.

Jimmie Nolan was fined $25 or 25 days on a charge of theft by check. Timothy Wheat received the same fine on a charge of theft.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

BY DORTHY KILGALLEN

Lana Turner's fiscal position is much cheerier than her private life. The accountants say she may make $4,000,000 as her share of the flicker "Portrait in Black". . . . Everyone in the International Set is betting Aristotle Onassis will marry Maria Callas in the near future. He's free and she's legally separated from her husband. It wouldn't take long for her to get a quickie divorce.

Shawn Elliott, a new singer, made an electrifying debut at the Village Vanguard the other night. Three of the big recording companies offered him long-term contracts within 24 hours after his first show. . . . Chris Connor has a new look. She decided it was time for a change and her once-platinum hair is now "Tilted blonde" and done in a fluffy style. . . . One of Broadway's finest actors is drinking too much — but with plenty of reason. The two women in his life — his wife and a Hollywood star — are giving him all kinds of trouble. . . . The closing of several 52d St. strip joints produced an immediate noticeable result: more and prouder strutters in the midtown area.

Marvelous quote from Kim Novak: "I want 'roles' of women on fire, good solid emotional parts where I can use some of the terrible experiences I've had in real life." . . . And then there's Juliette Greco's attitude toward living in Hollywood: "I could not stand having anything but actors around. What bores most of them are: what dreamy boses!"

But Dr. Margaret Mead, the noted anthropologist is an even more harassed lady when she contemplates the danger of children maturing too rapidly. Warns Dr. Mead: "The junior high school has become a forcing ground for inappropriate and socially maladjusted attitudes in both boys and girls as the basis for hostility for females on the boys' part and on the girls' part grasping pressure toward marriage combined with contempt for males."

Everybody's got troubles — from Kim to the high school kids!

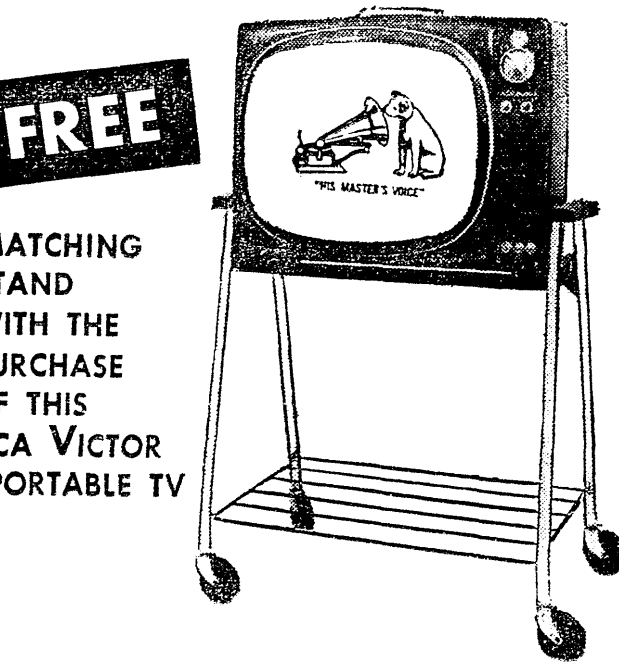

Pita Fitzgerald's health isn't top-top, so she'll undergo a thorough medical checkup. . . . ABC wants to sign Frank Sinatra for more specials next year, because despite all the headaches he's caused some swooning in the executive suites. He's asking over $3,000,000 a year — just for his own services — and wants a five-year guarantee. If he gets anything close to what he's asked for, it will be the most fabulous contract in the history of television.

AGE'S NO BARRIER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Charlie

Conerly, oldest active player in the National Football League and

No. 1 quarterback for the New York Giants, will be 29 in September.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

TEMPERATURE TAKING

The temperature of a normal, healthy child varies from 98 to 99.5 degrees F. A reading over 100 degrees, regardless of how it is taken, represents fever.

The exception occurs when the youngster has been running about or playing hard, as physical activities increases the reading. When Junior fee hot from playing out of doors, let him rest half an hour before reaching for the thermometer.

Cleanse the thermometer with soap and cool water and shake it down until it registers below 97. Don't take the temperature by mouth until the child can be trusted to hold the thermometer under the tongue. Rectal temperatures are more accurate than oral.

Never use force in this procedure. Lubricate the thermometer, insert it gently, and let the instrument find its own course. Hold it between two fingers with the palm of the hand across the buttocks. Never leave the instrument unguarded. The maximum reading usually is obtained within 1 to 3 minutes, depending upon the thermometer.

Body temperature varies during the day. It is lowest in the morning and highest in late afternoon. The same variations occur when the child is sick. If Johnnie develops tonsillitis, the reading may go up to 104 degrees in the afternoon and drop close to normal by morning. This is not the time to phone the physician that the child is well. Wait until the afternoon maximum reading. The infection is unchanged if the reading goes up to 104 whereas improvement is likely if it is lower.

Take the temperature two or three times a day when the child is ill and has fever. Don't awaken him for this purpose unless absolutely necessary because sleep is more valuable to a sick tot.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

DOWN IN THE MOUTH

M. N. writes: I'm 73 and enjoy life most of the time but now and then get the blues. Is there any way to prevent these spells?

REPLY

Everyone, regardless of age, has periods of depression. There is reason for concern only when the episodes persist or interfere with normal living. Be realistic and recognize this normal pattern, and become more active as soon as you begin to get down in the dumps.

GO AHEAD

B. K. writes: Is it dangerous to eat a peanut butter sandwich every day?

REPLY

No. Many children go through a stage when they prefer peanut butter sandwiches to steak or turkey.

HOW IS YOUR SPINE?

M. J. writes: I enjoy the cha cha once a week but have arthritis and creaking of the knees. Does dancing make these conditions worse?

REPLY

It depends upon your enthusiasm. A good rule to follow is: Any exercise that increases the pain or aggravates arthritis is doing more harm than good.

FEVERISH INTESTINE

M. L. L. writes: What does a temperature in the colon mean?

REPLY

Nothing. Every organ in the body has a temperature. Even if the colon had a fever I doubt if it could be determined with an ordinary thermometer.

RICE VALUE

M. R. writes: Is there any food value or vitamins in rice?

REPLY

Yes. White rice is a carbohydrate rich in calories. It contains various minerals but is low in vitamin B. Brown rice has more B, B2, and niacin.

Today's Health Hint—Never indulge in self-pity.

Urges Session

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. William B. Widnall (R-N.J.) urged President Eisenhower Friday to request an emergency session of the Organization of American States (OAS) to deal with the Fidel Castro government in Cuba.

Widnall, in a letter to the President, said united action by the OAS would be the most effective means to "ban and defeat the Castro Communist infiltration" of the countries of the Western Hemisphere.

Membership

NEW YORK (UPI) — Girl Scout membership has reached a total of 3,402,000, the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. announced Friday. There was a 3.3 per cent increase in membership during 1959.

New Ruling

Aimed Toward

Unwed Mothers

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The attorney general's office ruled yesterday new legislation, aimed at unwed mothers who continue having illegitimate children after drawing public welfare, should be applied retroactively.

Carroll Buck, assistant attorney general, wrote the opinion for Public Welfare Commissioner Mary Evelyn Parker.

She had requested the ruling in connection with new House and Senate bills enacted into law.

The new laws mostly would affect Negroes, because the Negro rate of illegitimacy, according to state hospital records, is considerably higher than the rate for whites.

BOSTON OVER NEW YORK

Monbouquette Pitches Sox Over League Leaders, 8-0

BOSTON (AP)—Bill Monbouquette pitched last place Boston to an 8-0 victory over New York's American League leaders Friday night, humbling the Yankees on a seven-hit shutout.

The 23-year-old right hander fashioned his eighth victory and got all the support he needed when the Red Sox scored two runs on four singles in the fourth inning.

RAMOS WINS 5TH

Senators Down Baltimore, 9 To 5

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Washington Senators downed the Baltimore Orioles 9-5 Friday night, taking advantage of four Oriole errors.

Four of the Senators' runs were unearned as they scored three in the second inning.

Wall Widens Lead To 3 In Canada Open

TORONTO (AP)—Slender Art Wall Jr., of Ponca Manor, Pa., stretched his lead to three strokes in the Canadian Open Golf Championship with a 5-under-par 67 Friday for a 54-hole total of 200.

He started the day one stroke up on Toronto's Al Balding, who blew to a 77 for a 211 total.

Wall, the 1959 Masters champion, went into a three-stroke lead over Bob Goobly of Crystal River, Fla., who also carded a 67 for 203.

Another stroke behind were Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., and 48-year-old Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., a three-time winner of this tournament. Littler and Snead each shot 68.

The solemn-faced 36-year-old Wall, last off the tee in a day that saw scores balloon due to heavy winds, was 1-under-par until he hit the par-3 16th. Then he streaked home with a birdie, 2, eagle 3 and birdie 4 for a 5-under-par 67 on the back nine. He made the turn at even-par 35.

The day was highlighted by a hole-in-one by Mac Main of Danville, Va., who canmed his tee shot on the 140-yard par-3 sixth with an 8-iron.

Balding, who blistered St. George's course with an 8-under-par 64 in Wednesday's opening round and then slipped to a second-round 70 Thursday was out in even-par but his game fell apart on the way home.

The roof really fell in on him on the easy par-3 163-yard 18th, where he took a 3. His tee shot landed on the grass on the edge of a trap to the right of the hole. He brushed two blasts and got down in two putts from 7 feet out.

"That's the hole that made it easy for me," Wall commented after his round.

Rebel League

NO-HITTER

Bill Duncan pitched a no-hitter, fanning 12, to lead Piggy Wiggy over McGuire Real Estate, 10-1, and Woody Woodcock threw a two-hitter to hurl Brown-Rivers-Scogin over Dixie Boys, 5-0, in the Rebel League Thursday night.

Two errors gave McGuire their run against Duncan, who was caught by Jerry Green. Billy Rogers and Moore were the losing battery. Larry Pittard led the hitting for the winners with 2-4.

Dixie's battery of Fred Regland and Bubba Via allowed only five hits to B-R-S. Dickie Worley caught Woodcock.

Boston came up with its other six tallies in the seventh when men went to the plate. The only hit of the spree were Willie Tassby's three-run homer, his second, and Frank Malzone's three-run, pop fly double to left.

Monbouquette struck out eight and walked three while beating Art Ditmar.

The kid who owns two of the Boston pitching staff's three shutouts and eight of the 17 complete games rose to great heights when his control temporarily failed him in the seventh.

With one out, Yogi Berra hit a wrong-field double down the left field line. Cletus Boyer hit a hot grounder to the left side which got through Malzone. Shortstop Don Buddin made a fine stop preventing the ball from getting through but could not make a play. Pinch-hitter Bob Cerv, who cracked a key home run in New York's victory over Baltimore Thursday night, walked filling the bases.

Pinch-hitter Gil McDougald went down swinging as the 32,437 customers let out a mighty cheer. Then Tony Kubek lofted a fly ball to left and old chaps and pains—Ted Williams—loped over to spear the ball one-handed.

Bill Skowron led off the Yankee ninth with a double off the left field wall. Mombro set down Berra on a foul to the catcher, Cletus Boyer on a grounder to short, then ended the game by fanning pinch-hitter Kent Hadley.

NEW YORK (AP)—Lloyd Patterson won Ring Magazine's "Fighter of the Month" award as well as the world heavyweight championship when he knocked out Ingemar Johansson at the Polo Grounds June 20.

Johansson has been dropped to fourth place among the challengers in the magazine's monthly ratings. He is placed behind Sonny Liston, Zora Folley and Eddie Machen.

Paul Pender still is listed as middleweight champion, with Gene Fullmer, recognized by the NBA as titleholder, the No. 1 challenger. Pender, twice victor over Sugar Ray Robinson, is recognized by New York, Massachusetts and the European Boxing Federation.

Don Jordan, who was dethroned as welterweight champion by Benny Paret, dropped to third place among the challengers in that division behind Luis Rodriguez and Federico Thompson. Ricardo Gonzalez was dropped from No. 1 challenger to No. 3 among the featherweights as the result of his defeat by Felix Cervantes, No. 10 on the list.

A familiar name bobbed up in the light heavyweight listing. Carl (Bobo) Olson, once middleweight champion, took over the No. 7 spot in the heavier class as a result of his upset victory over Mike Holt of South Africa. Holt dropped from No. 3 to No. 6, and Willie Pastrano of Miami went from No. 8 to No. 4.

WALL WIDENS LEAD TO 3 IN CANADA OPEN

TORONTO (AP)—Slender Art Wall Jr., of Ponca Manor, Pa., stretched his lead to three strokes in the Canadian Open Golf Championship with a 5-under-par 67 Friday for a 54-hole total of 200.

He started the day one stroke up on Toronto's Al Balding, who blew to a 77 for a 211 total.

Wall, the 1959 Masters champion, went into a three-stroke lead over Bob Goobly of Crystal River, Fla., who also carded a 67 for 203.

Another stroke behind were Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., and 48-year-old Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., a three-time winner of this tournament. Littler and Snead each shot 68.

The solemn-faced 36-year-old Wall, last off the tee in a day that saw scores balloon due to heavy winds, was 1-under-par until he hit the par-3 16th. Then he streaked home with a birdie, 2, eagle 3 and birdie 4 for a 5-under-par 67 on the back nine. He made the turn at even-par 35.

The day was highlighted by a hole-in-one by Mac Main of Danville, Va., who canmed his tee shot on the 140-yard par-3 sixth with an 8-iron.

Balding, who blistered St. George's course with an 8-under-par 64 in Wednesday's opening round and then slipped to a second-round 70 Thursday was out in even-par but his game fell apart on the way home.

The roof really fell in on him on the easy par-3 163-yard 18th, where he took a 3. His tee shot landed on the grass on the edge of a trap to the right of the hole. He brushed two blasts and got down in two putts from 7 feet out.

"That's the hole that made it easy for me," Wall commented after his round.

Stan, Ted Acting Like Youngsters

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball may be a young man's game but greybeards Ted (The Kid) Williams and Stan (The Man) Musial are still showing how the game should be played.

Time doesn't seem to dim the Williams or Musial batting eyes.

Recreation Softball

Lewis and Jones blasted two homers each and Beaver one as Parkway outsluggered Faith, 16-9, in the Church "C" League, Passaic, N.J., Saturday.

William and Sampson were the winning battery. College Place beat Lattin, 14-3, with Bob Bushnell pitching and hitting a homer. Burl Palmer went 2-3. Rawlins and Joe Tannehill were the losers.

Little Boys

Pan-Am stopped Central Bank, 5-3, and Bancroft whipped Sinclair, 16-4, in the Little Boys' leagues last night. Ray Crowell was the winning Pan-Am hurler while Haley and Head were the losing battery.

Warren McHenry and Gary Roy got 3-5 each to pace Bancroft's victory. Gary Humble and Jimmy Coyle were the winning battery over Buddy Moore and Reggie Freeman. Randall Cloyd got 2-3 for the losers.

Ronnie Wyatt backed his own pitching with a 3-3 night at the plate to lead Church of Christ over Church of God, 8-6, in the only "B" battle. Martin Fisher caught. Clarke was the loser and catcher Manning got 2-4.

Ridge Avenue edged L.T.I., 14-13, and Sterlington clawed the Lions, 11-3, in the Senior League. Graham and Hinton won for Ridge over Emory and Babin. B. White of the winners and Chancey of L.T.I. got 3-5 each. Johnny Roach collected 2-2 to pace Sterlington while Roy Bryant and Donald Seffen were the winners over Jones and Parker. Woams got 2-3 for the Lions in a game halted after four innings because of the time limit.

West Monroe Baptist topped Calvary, 6-2, Temple topped First Christian, 12-9, and College Place edged Trinity, 11-10, in an extra inning in the Church "A" League last night. Dave McKenzie won over McGough in West Monroe's victory with Bryant, Nelson and McKenzie going 2-4 for the winners with Lee collecting 3-4 for Calvary.

Graves hit 2-4 to pace Temple. James won over Bates and Clark while veteran Max Wroten went 2-3 for the losers. Busby and Posey beat Jacks and George in the College Place - Trinity contest.

Delma Wilhite spun a two-hitter to hurl National Guard over West Monroe Jaycees, 9-1, and Ralph Kilpatrick got 4-5 with a homer to lead Lions Club over Peniel, 12-9, in the West Monroe Adult circuit. Keith Amos got 4-6 for the Guard and Clark caught. Lenard and Hinton were the losing battery. Baugh and Wilson of the Lions won over Clark and Gilbert.

14 REGULATIONS

Rules Announced For Bussey Brake

Officials at International Paper Company in Bastrop today released a list of 14 rules regarding regulations for the recently impounded Bussey Brake in Morehouse Parish.

In a prepared statement for the Morning World, the firm released rules which a special committee deemed necessary for the safety of those using the reservoir.

Bussey Brake was created by International Paper for the purpose of providing a fresh water reservoir for use by its mills at Bastrop.

The 2200 acre fresh water lake has provided excellent fishing since its opening in April of this year. Recently, International entered into a Fisheries Management Contract with the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission.

Regulations which are scheduled to go into effect immediately are:

1. All persons fishing or going on the reservoir do so at their own risk; and the company assumes no liability or responsibility in connection with the use of the reservoir.
2. The company reserves the right to prohibit the use of the reservoir to anyone failing to obey these regulations or to anyone guilty of misconduct in and around the reservoir.
3. All boats must be put in and out of the reservoir at the ramp provided near the north end of the basin just off the highway or at stiles where roller pipes are installed in the fence, and at no other points.
4. When it is necessary to cross a fence, the stiles provided must be used.
5. Only legal sports fishing gear is permitted. No seines, nets, including cast nets, webbing, or other commercial fishing gear are permitted. Small hand landing nets may be used.
6. No vehicles are allowed on the levee at any point except at the boat launching ramp and at that point must be moved off and down to the parking lot as soon as the boat is loaded and unloaded. The levee must not be cut or damaged in any way. No one is allowed on the drawdown structure and dock in connection therewith.
7. Firearms and explosives are not allowed in the reservoir.
8. No swimming is permitted.
9. No motors except electric

Miss Meyers, Mr. Jackson Exchange Marriage Vows

The First Methodist Church of Lake Providence, was the scene of the marriage of Miss Betty Jo Meyers and Charles Gwen Jackson on June 26.

Rev. George York officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony. The church was decorated in white and green. Huckleberry sprays graced the candelabra and altar rail. Floor baskets of white stock, gladioli and mums were placed within the altar rails and white bows and greenery designated the reserved pews.

Organist for the wedding was Mrs. Herman Schwartz. She accompanied Seymour Meyers who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length model of white nylon net over tulle. The bodice was of Chantilly lace with a yolk inset of pleated net. Lace from the bodice extended into the skirt to form double ruching designs. Her blue and white sash complemented the dress. Her hat was of pearl-trimmed white leaves and a short veil. She completed the ensemble with white accessories and a corsage from her wedding bouquet.

After the wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will make their home in Shreveport, where he is a faculty member at Fair Park High School.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Ross and son, Doris Hill Jackson; Miss Myrtle Meyers and Miss Marguerite Meyers, Pelahatchie, Miss; Mr. and Mrs. Lance Myers, Jackson, Miss; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. West, Oak Grove; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. McAlfee, Greenville, Miss.; Jimmy Shamus, Greenville, Miss.; Mrs. George McAlfee, Meridian, Miss.; Mrs. Gene Gill and son, Pete, Jackson, Miss.; Mrs. Jessie Smith and daughters, Karen Sue and Vivian Leigh, Hattiesburg, Miss.; Miss Susan Babb, Pensacola, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Billie Don Jackson, Baton Rouge; Miss Dhalie Fulton, Pineville; Miss Johnnie Catherine Ross, Jackson; Mrs. Walter Sealy, Tallulah; Miss Josephine Faght, Tallulah; Mrs. Henry Thomas, Oak Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lipp, Oak Grove; John Briggs, Oak Grove; Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Boutwell, all of Oak Grove; Luther Rhodes and Gary Parish of Monroe.

White and green was used in the color scheme. The twin refreshment tables were covered with floor length cloths of white organza over satin. Mrs. Jessie Smith, Hattiesburg, and Mrs. Gene Gill, Jackson, presided over the punch services.

Billie Don Jackson, Baton Rouge, served his brother as best man. Ushers were George Meyers, Lake Providence, and Bruce Faght, Tallulah. After the wedding, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Meyers, were hosts at a reception held at the Legion Home on Bayou Tensas. Mrs. Meyers greeted the guests at the outer door, where they were asked by Mrs. Bobby Joe Tullio to sign the guest register.

White and green was used in the color scheme. The twin refreshment tables were covered with floor length cloths of white organza over satin. Mrs. Jessie Smith, Hattiesburg, and Mrs. Gene Gill, Jackson, presided over the punch services.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES GWEN JACKSON

Festive Events Given To Honor Mrs. Gardner

Mrs. Don Gardner of Oklahoma City, who before her recent marriage was Miss Mary Blackwell of Mer Rouge, has been honored with a series of parties.

A coffee party was given by Mrs. Audrey McDermott on Friday morning, July 1, in her Mer Rouge home to honor Mrs. Gardner. Giant dahlias in rose tones were evident in the living room.

The honoree, wearing a yellow, striped sundress and a white carnation corsage, received guests with her mother, Mrs. W. T. Blackwell, and her grandmother, Mrs. T. Y. Harp Sr.

Mrs. F. H. Clark presided at the silver coffee service at a white lace-covered refreshment table. Lavender dahlias in a crystal epergne centered the table and buffet.

Assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. Fred Moss, Mrs. Gayle Carter, and Misses Susan and Penny Carter.

Among those present were Mrs. Charles Blackwell Jr. of Bastrop, Mrs. F. A. Tolar, Mrs. G. A. Hume, Mrs. Lester Braddock, Mrs. Emily and Shirley Braddock, Mrs. L. G. Wilson, Miss Debbie Pinkston, Mrs. W. V. Spires, of Lamesa, Texas, Mrs. Warren White, Mrs. G. D. Bacon, Mrs. C. E. Vaughan, Mrs. C. R. Vancey, of Laramie, Wyoming, Mrs. Clifton Gossard of Bastrop, Mrs. A. H. Davenport, Mrs. W. C. Andrews, Mrs. Joe Belka, Mrs. Mary Reilly, Mrs. Jack Yell, Mrs. John Coats IV, Mrs. J. B. Williams, Mrs. T. H. B.

Miss Judy Cobb Honored At Luncheon On Birthday

The Flamingo Room of the Hollywood Restaurant was the setting Wednesday noon when Mrs. J. B. Cobb hosted a luncheon in honor of her daughter, Miss Judy Cobb, who was celebrating her 16th birthday.

Pink beauty asters were mixed with greenery in a low, oblong white bowl to form the centerpiece on the white linen-covered luncheon table. A wide pink ribbon extended the length of the table, giving the effect of a large birthday package. White candles edged in pink marked places for the guests.

Friends invited to share the occasion with the honoree were Miss Pat Aylward, Miss Dottie Amman, Miss Kay Anderson, Miss Sally Barham, Miss Pat Bassett, Miss Jody Biedenharn, Miss Doll Burgess, Miss Carol Jean Cahn, Miss Mary Conlin, Miss Ellen Ferguson, Miss Mintia Goyen, Miss Marjella Heidenreich, Miss Mary Frances Jones, Miss Diane McGee, Miss Mike McKinney, Miss Margaret Moore, Miss Bonnie Moreland, Miss Paula Moreland, Miss Molly Shelton, Miss Kay Thompson and Miss Judy Worley.

Logtown HDC Entertains Mrs. Zachary

The Logtown Home Demonstration Club was hostess in the home of Mrs. A. T. Stout on Columbia Road to Mrs. Carol Zachary prior to her departure to Chicago, Illinois, where she will make her future home.

The honoree wore a printed silk dress with accessories to match. Mrs. Thomas Stockwell, president, presented Mrs. Zachary with a milk white bowl from the club.

Guests were invited into the dining room where a green and white color scheme was carried out. Centering the refreshment table, which was covered with a white lace tablecloth over green linen, were white gardenias and magnolias in an epergne which was draped with green grapes.

Mrs. Claudia Stockwell presided over the punch service.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Child Who Hits Others Should Be Sent Home

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

There are times when, without being told, a mother knows the right way to act. To act otherwise, would be offensive to her. She would do well to listen to these inner promptings, for they will provide many answers for her.

Mrs. O. writes:

"Dear Mrs. Eldred: 'I have three children, six, four and two and one-half years old. There is a little girl who lives next door who is just three. Quite often she comes over in our yard to play. Sometimes when she plays she hits the children with a stick, or anything she can lay hand to. 'Some people think I should tell my children to hit her back. But I don't feel this is right. I do not want to teach them to fight — and also she is younger. What is your opinion of this?'

ANSWER

Your instinctive revulsion against letting them hit back at this younger child has led you to the correct answer yourself. If there were a group of 3-year-old children of comparable stature playing together and one hit another, or slapped or bit, there might be no real harm if the other child retaliated in kind.

But not when children are so ill-matched — and your 2½-year-old is in danger, even if this child is only six months older.

The one thing that will teach this child how to act is to send her home promptly when she misbehaves. You can explain that when she wants to hit the children she isn't having any fun or doesn't want to play with them.

Suggest that she go home and come back some other time when she can enjoy herself.

ANOTHER ASPECT

There is another aspect worthy of mention. This small child is learning how to play by the experiences she has with your older children. If they are sweet and good to her, if they reprimand her when she begins to hit and say, "You don't play that way, honey," she will look upon them as veritable oracles. She will heed their words fully as much as she would those of an adult.

Then she learns that to have fun in play, she does not hurt another child and if she does, she gets temporary ostracism and the privilege of playing by herself.

Not only are you teaching your own children good play habits when you counsel them not to hit back, but you certainly are being fair and just to the younger child who could not hold her own against them no matter what her weapons.

Publish Paper Of Biologist

A Northeast Louisiana State College biologist has received notification of the publication of a research paper.

Ed Whalley, associate professor of biology, is one of the authors of "Fishes Taken in the Menhaden Fishery of Alabama, Mississippi and Eastern Louisiana." It appears in Special Scientific Report — Fisheries No. 329 of the U. S. Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service.

Whalley collected data for the paper during the summer of 1959 while doing research at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs, Miss.

Poverty Point Visit Scheduled By Thirty Here

The 30 participants in a summer science institute at Northeast Louisiana State College will visit the site of an early American civilization Monday.

Members of the institute in biology and chemistry will take a field trip to Poverty Point near Epps, where civilization flourished some 2,000 years ago. The group will leave at 8 a.m. by bus and return to the college about 4 p.m.

Dr. Aaron Seamster, institute director and biology department chairman at Northeast, said the visit is part of the institute program of field trips to acquaint participants with areas of interest in northeast Louisiana.

The nine-week institute, financed by the National Science Foundation, is designed for high-school science teachers.

DEAR ABBY

Rather Have Sour Milk Than Sour Marriage

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our milkman is a handsome young man about 30 and he's so nice I hate to hurt his feelings. I gave him my back door key to let himself in and put my milk in my refrigerator. My husband says the milkman is supposed to leave the milk out-door the door. He is raising quite a fuss about it, too. I like to sleep mornings and don't want the milk to get sour; that's why I gave him a back door key. My husband has no reason to be jealous of the milkman but I believe he is. Should I ask the milkman for the key and tell him to leave the milk outside or what? — LOUISE

DEAR LOUISE: Better to have sour milk than a sour marriage. Your husband's wishes outrank the milkman's feelings. Get the key.

DEAR ABBY: Some friends invited my husband and me to dine at a roadside cafe. The four of us ordered steaks. Just as I started to eat mine I noticed a dead fly on it. I pushed it back and asked my husband to order me another one. He refused and traded steaks with me. I told him he shouldn't eat it either, but he said it didn't bother him. I lost my temper and we had a few words.

By this time people at other tables were taking it all in and started voicing their opinions. Some were with me and some were with him. Our host insisted on ordering another steak. Do you think I was wrong to mention the dead fly? Or should I have brushed it off and eaten the steak anyway? — SQUEAMISH

DEAR SQUEAMISH: Telling your husband was fine. He then should have quietly ordered another steak. Since he lacked the courage, you should have let him trade steaks with you instead of making an issue of it. The lively row between you was probably far more humiliating to your host than the presence of a dead fly on your steak.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for the "Live Today" teen-ager who said her parents were too strict and old-fashioned, and with the H Bomb ready to hit us any minute why not have all the fun possible? Well, I'll tell you why not:

God had His reasons for putting us on this earth, and if He takes us away He will also have His reasons. If He wants us to live and have fun, He will give us time, and if He wants us to die, He will see to that, too.

I absolutely agree with your answer, Abby. My mother talks just like you do and I love her for it. We teen-agers should try to understand that our parents have lived their lives and made mistakes and they are being strict with us to keep us from making the same mistakes.

I think this "Live Today" girl just wanted an excuse to have her fun and she needed someone to agree with her. If she's smart, she'll take your advice, I'm no angel, but I know right from wrong and if I get into trouble it will be nobody's fault but my own because I've been taught different. Thank you. — FEARLESS TEEN-AGER

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

YOUR PROBLEMS Mother Who Peddles Stork Story Foolish

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: My next-door neighbor and I are both expecting a baby in a couple of months. Our 4-year-olds are only two weeks apart. They play together constantly.

The neighbor's little girl has asked no questions. My Nancy is a human question-box and nothing escapes her notice. Last week she asked why I was wearing such a "fat dress," and I told her what was happening. She was very excited at the prospect of having a new baby in the family.

Yesterday my neighbor came storming into my house. She was purple with rage and screamed, "Your Nancy told my Carol that you are growing a baby and she wanted to know if I am, too. I had told her the stork story and now you've made a liar out of me!"

She claims I had no business telling a 4-year-old about babies and I owe her an apology. Do I? — UPSET

Dear Upset: You didn't make a liar out of your neighbor. She made one out of herself. No apology is due. A mother who peddles the stork story deserves exactly what your neighbor got.

Any child who is old enough to notice a physical change and ask questions is old enough to hear the truth. The stork can be said in simple and beautiful language with no scientific or clinical detail. If a mother feels inept, she can buy any one of several fine books which outline a presentation for pre-school children.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's boss is getting married soon. A church wedding and large reception have been planned. The invitation which came to our house was addressed only to my husband. We are not social friends but I did meet the couple a few times and they were pleasant.

My husband feels bad that I was not invited and he is seriously considering not going. I'm urging him to go without me rather than Whenever I'm in her home, the phone rings and she gets involved in long conversations (at least 30 minutes). It's usually her daughter-in-law or another friend.

In my opinion it's plain rude for her to leave me sitting alone while she yaks about trifles. It seems as if she intentionally drags out the conversation to irritate me.

Should I sit there like a bump on a log, or would it be better to teach her a lesson and leave? — IGNORED GUEST

Dear Ignored: It is extremely impolite to carry on a friendly 20 minute telephone conversation while a guest is present. An emergency call is different but there's no excuse for casually fanning the breeze.

The next time you're in her home and the phone rings tell her you know how much she likes to chat on the phone and if she's going to be longer than five minutes you'll come back another time. Give her ten . . . and if she's "still" on the horn—leave.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, read "Ann Landers' booklet, 'How To Be Date Bait,' enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Ex-Monroians Will Fly In Air Race

Two former Monroe women will participate in the Women's Transcontinental Air Race which begins today at Torrance, Calif.

They are Mrs. Marian Jensen, the former Marion Moss of Monroe, and Mrs. Dottie Sanders, granddaughter of Mrs. Ida B. Miller, 130 Egan St., Monroe. Both now make their home in San Diego, Calif.

Farley Takes Angry Slap At Stevenson

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Democratic warhorse James A. Farley took an angry slap Friday at the presidential aspirations of Adlai E. Stevenson.

Farley said that Stevenson "is prepared to accept the nomination to the presidency apparently in the belief that it is the duty of God, the Democratic party and the American people to force it upon him."

Farley is a backer of Texas' Lyndon B. Johnson.

"To paraphrase a current statement, to send Gov. Stevenson to negotiate with Mr. Khrushchev is to send the cabbage patch to the zoo," Farley told a Rotary Club luncheon.

"I have no doubt," Farley, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, said, "that the convention will select a candidate who, like Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland, Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman, has personal honor enough to admit he seeks the office instead of instigating a futile and unmanly method of trying to appear as if that great and majestic office seeks him."

PREMIER NIKITA Khrushchev, in a moment of clowning cuddles big gift bottle of Austrian wine close to him during visit to Austria which ended yesterday. Khrushchev was given the wine during a visit to Kaprun Dam in the Alps, Austria's largest hydroelectric power stations. His antics stirred a laugh from usually serious Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, in dark glasses. (AP Wirephoto)

Mobile Negro Is Charged In N.O. Slaying

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A Mobile Negro Friday was charged with murder in the car-theft slaying of a New Orleans clerk whose body was found floating in a river three months ago.

David Oakley, 17, was booked at county jail and ordered held without bond in Melvin Bourne's death. No hearing date was set.

The charge was filed, Sheriff Ray D. Bridges said, after Oakley re-told to prosecutor Carl M. Booth his account of the fatal shooting of the 29-year-old Bourne.

Bourne's body was discovered floating in East Fowl River south of the city April 6. He had been shot through the heart.

Bridges quoted a signed statement by Oakley as saying he and 29-year-old Harold Wallace, also a Mobile Negro, went to New Orleans April 1 to steal a car, kidnapped Bourne at gunpoint and forced him to drive them here in his 1953 car. The sheriff quoted the statement as saying that Wallace shot Bourne on a river bridge and dumped his body into the water.

Bridges said Wallace was questioned Friday and denied knowledge of the slaying. He said last at one point Oakley and Wallace were brought together, with Oakley sticking to his account implicating Wallace and Wallace still denying guilt.

Wallace is to be questioned again Saturday. He was lodged in jail on an open charge.

Both he and Oakley had already been jailed for questioning in a series of house burglaries.

They were in jail when Bourne's car was located here Tuesday night. It was traced through a used car lot to Oakley, the sheriff said.

19 Dead In Japan Rains

TOKYO (AP)—Torrential rains lashed southwestern Japan Friday, causing landslides, flooding homes and leaving 19 persons dead, 3 missing and 27 injured. Rains were reported heaviest in Yamaguchi Prefecture, where the Weather Bureau reported eight inches fell in 12 hours on Iwakuni. The U.S. Marine air facility is located at Iwakuni. Four inches was recorded at Hiroshima.

Police said about 9,000 homes were reported flooded, and railway service was temporarily disrupted.

Violation Of Probation Brings Term

A charge of probation violation caught up with a Monroe Negro Friday. He was sentenced to serve two years in the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola—a sentence suspended in 1956.

Troy Williams, 38, Negro, who formerly lived at 2022 Adams St., 12D, West Monroe, trial reset for pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated battery on May 11, 1956.

He was sentenced in Fourth District Court to a two-year probation term, the sentence was suspended, and he was placed on two-year probation.

Officials state that in January of 1957, he disappeared. He learned of his whereabouts on June 30, when Monroehs, Tex., authorities notified Monroe that Williams was in custody there.

Yesterday, Judge David I. Garrett revoked his probation, and ordered him to serve the original sentence.

Three local men drew six-month jail terms in the court session.

Ellis McDaniels, 68, Route 3, Box 202, West Monroe, was sentenced to six months in the Ouachita Parish jail, starting from June 10, the date of his arrest. He is charged with contributing to the delinquency of juveniles.

Sherman L. Womack, 40, 306 Cole Ave., faces six months, concurrent, on each of two theft charges involving $10 checks. Dewey Durbin, 33, Route 3, Negro, 205 Magnolia St., Wilbert West Monroe, charged with illegal use of a weapon, was sentenced to serve six months in 65, Norfolk, Va.

jail from the date of his arrest. He also was fined $100 and costs or 30 days.

Albert Victor Hester, 33, 907 Cypress St., West Monroe, pled innocent to a charge of attempted crime against nature. However, he pled guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages, and was fined $300 and court costs or 60 days.

Others charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages were:

Jerry Clyde Thompson, 21, Route 1, Calhoun, fined $300 and costs or 60 days.

H. P. Berry, 43, Route 3, Box 12D, West Monroe, trial reset for Sept. 23.

James E. French, 26, 306 1/2 South Vienna St., Ruston, trial continued to July 11.

Lesley Mayo, 36, 407 Crosley St., West Monroe, charged as a second offender, fined $400 and costs or 90 days, and ordered to serve 125 days in jail.

Albert Kennedy Newell, 30, Negro, 3004 Barlow St., was fined $100 and court costs or 30 days in jail on a charge of illegal carrying of a weapon.

Jennie Margaret Williams McKinney, 23-year-old Marshall, Tex. Negress, pled innocent to a charge of forgery.

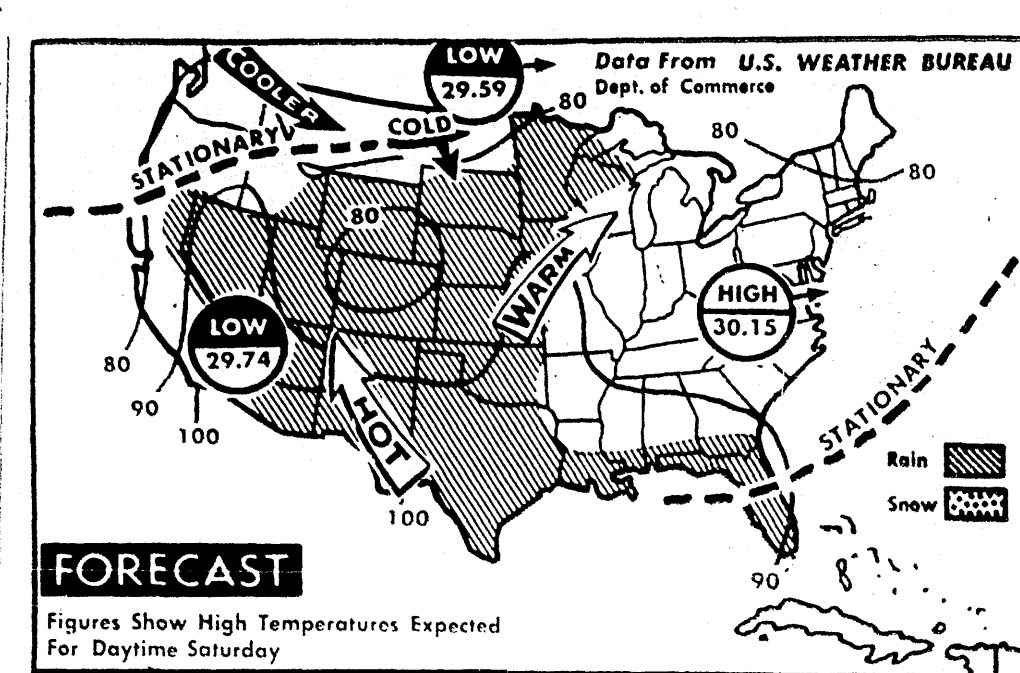

Trial date was continued to Sept. 23 for Clarence Howard Jenkins, alias Junior Jenkins, charged with selling whiskey on Sunday.

Marilyn Jan King, 23, Shreveport, was tried, found guilty and fined $25 and costs or 10 days on a reckless driving charge. Fined $25 and costs or 10 days on charges of driving without a license were William Bailey, 18, West Monroe, received bruises and scratches when the bicycle on which he was riding was hit by a car driven by Frances A. Murphy, 19, Route Three, West Monroe, police said.

Officials said that Miss Murphy was driving north on Washington Street, and that young Franks tried to cross the street in front of her.

The accident occurred three and four-tenths miles west of Washington Street.

The child was not taken to the hospital, and injuries were believed to be minor.

GENERALLY FAIR weather is forecast Saturday for the nation east of Mississippi Valley, except for some widely scattered thundershowers in southeast and along Gulf coast. Scattered showers and isolated thunderstorms are expected from Rockies to Great Plains. Warm and humid weather is expected in Mississippi Valley and central Plains. It will be cooler in northern Plains and northern Rockies. (AP Wirephoto Map)

WRINKLES

by Marie Davant

New York—Chemical Science has found a white substance made from quicksilver that works wonders on wrinkled face and hands. You can use it one time and see amazing improvements next morning. In a few days dead wrinkly surface skin wrinkles starts to melt away, many small lines around the eyes and mouth seem to disappear like magic, but that is not all! "Old-age" brown spots on hands, brown "eggs" on face and neck fade away. Lubricates pores to help blackheads slip out without squeezing.

ing. Helps surface pimples dry up. Surface blemishes and tiny scars seem to become almost invisible. But don't take our word for it. Make a 6-day test without risking one penny. Just go to Walgreen's and buy a jar of Golden Peacock Imperial Creme. Use this thrilling cream for 6 days—and if you are not completely satisfied with results, full price will be refunded, no questions asked. Start using Golden Peacock Imperial Creme today.
